

Denver Marijuana Business, The Lodge, Voluntarily Recalls Marijuana Products Due to Yeast/Mold

February 10, 2020

A Denver marijuana business, The Lodge, is voluntarily recalling retail marijuana plant material and pre-rolls (joints, blunts, etc.) due to the presence of elevated yeast and/or mold counts. The Lodge is licensed under the LLC KTA.

During a Denver Department of Public Health & Environment (DDPHE) investigation, samples of dried marijuana were evaluated and identified as containing potentially unsafe levels of yeast/mold. All retail marijuana plant material or marijuana pre-rolls bearing the OPC codes 403R-01007 and 403R-00207 sold from two stores located in the Denver-metro area prior to February 7, 2020 are subject to the recall.

Products Recalled:	403R Code on Label
Marijuana plant material products (flower, shake, trim, pre-rolls, etc.) purchased prior to 2/7/2020	403R-01007 and 403R-00207

Locations: The recalled marijuana plant material was sold at the following two stores:

Store Name:	Store Address:
The Lodge	82 S Federal Blvd, Denver 80219
The Lodge	3944 N High St, Denver 80205

Consumers or businesses who have these recalled products should dispose of them or return them to the store from where they were purchased. For more information about the recall, contact The Lodge at: Info@TLCannabis.com.

DDPHE opened an investigation after identifying samples of marijuana plant material that had failed total yeast and mold testing from multiple retail store and cultivation locations. Short and long-term health impacts resulting from inhalation exposure to mold/yeast may exist depending on the specific product, duration, frequency, and level of
